

Iseära terrace houses

Geothermal heating and A energy class

Water floor heating or no radiators. A geothermal heat pump brings heat to the room – you can't go any greener.

A home that you can design yourself

With Liven's Home Designer program, you can choose the materials and furniture you like for your future home. An interior architect helps with advice and strength.

Furniture from Liven

You can also order built-in furniture with matching finishes from Liven.

High ceilings, tall windows and tall doors on the first floor

3 meters, 2,6 meters ja 2,3 meters.

The benefits of a garden ton

A complete block with small apartment buildings and terraced houses, with trees and bushes between them, playgrounds and recreation areas.

Community agreement

In order for all residents to start on the same page as quickly as possible, we have described in the Community Agreement what life will look like at Iseära.

Parking spaces in front of the entrance

Each terraced house resident can park two cars in front of the house.

Electric car charging point

You have the opportunity to order it for your parking space.

Every home has its own forced ventilation

With heat recovery and economical features. A hood with a charcoal filter is designed for the kitchen.

Remotely read meters for water and electricity

One less worry.
